What is the future of ads?

Running a Search Engine (or Chatbot) is Expensive

GPT-3 would take 355 years to train on a single NVIDIA Tesla V100 GPU

→ Training would cost ~$5 million in compute time

ChatGPT (GPT-3.5) is estimated to cost $100k / day to operate

→ The cost of every word generated is $0.0003

Ads Pay the Bills to Run Search

- Only 1 million people use Neeva
- Only 180,000 people pay for Twitter Blue (less than 0.2% of users)
- 70% of Hulu users choose the ad-supported viewing plan

2. GPT knows what a campaign and an ad group is so no need to explain this
3. This prompt confused GPT about what output you expected

Here are five new keywords that could be added to the ad group:

1. PPC bid optimization: This keyword targets users who are looking for a tool that can help them optimize their PPC bids for maximum return on investment.
2. AdWords automation: This keyword targets users who are looking for a tool that can help them automate their AdWords campaigns.
3. PPC campaign analysis: This keyword targets users who are looking for a tool that can help them analyze their PPC campaigns to improve performance.
4. Keyword research tool: This keyword targets users who are looking for a tool that can help them research and select the best keywords for their PPC campaigns.
5. Performance reporting: This keyword targets users who are looking for a tool that can help them track and report on the performance of their PPC campaigns.

Models that use standard prompting directly provide the answer to a multi-step reasoning problem. In contrast, chain of thought prompting teaches the model to deconstruct the problem into intermediate reasoning steps, better enabling it to reach the correct final answer.

Transformers were introduced in 2017 by a team at Google Brain<sup>[1]</sup> and are increasingly the model of choice for NLP problems,<sup>[3]</sup> replacing RNN models such as long short-term memory (LSTM). The additional training parallelization allows training on larger datasets. This led to the development of pretrained systems such as BERT (Bidirectional Encoder Representations from Transformers) and GPT (Generative Pre-trained Transformer), which were trained with large language datasets, such as the Wikipedia Corpus and Common Crawl, and can be fine-tuned for specific tasks.<sup>[4][5]</sup>

Gordon Moore who coined Moore's Law and whose predictions about computing power held. Processors got faster and data storage cheaper. With these 2 factors combined, we are now in a world with unimaginable computing power and lots of data it can use to learn. Hence Machine Learning was able to take off, a subset of AI that has made search better. Just look at how humans are now conversing with AI like ChatGPT and soon Bard. And what it means to be an advertiser has been affected as well. We rely more on AI automations and less on button-pushing to achieve great results.

Optimize the prompt to save cost

Multiple models, each with different capabilities and price points. Prices are per 1,000 tokens. You can think of tokens as pieces of words, where 1,000 tokens is about 750 words. This paragraph is 35 tokens.

208 chars = 35 tokens

6000 chars = 1000 tokens

You need fewer examples for familiar tasks. For this classifier, we don't provide any examples. This is because the API already has an understanding of sentiment and the concept of a Tweet. If you're building a classifier for something the API might not be familiar with, it might be necessary to provide more examples.

RSA Script

Here's a Google Ads script to create a Google Spreadsheet with RSA ads that have less than X headlines or Y descriptions. Please make sure you've enabled the Google Sheets API in your Google Ads Scripts by following the instructions in this guide:

<https://developers.google.com/google-ads/scripts/docs/features/google-sheets>

javascript

 Copy code

function main() { // Input Settings
  var SPREADSHEET_URL = ''; // If blank, create a new spreadsheet. If not blank, use the URL.
  var SHEET_NAME = 'RSA Ads';
  var INCLUDE_PAUSED = false; // Change to true if you want to include paused ads.
  var MAX_HEADLINES = 15;
  var MAX_DESCRIPTIONS = 4;

  // Spreadsheet setup
  var spreadsheet;
  if (SPREADSHEET_URL === '') {
    spreadsheet = SpreadsheetApp.create('RSA Ads Spreadsheet'); SPREADSHEET_URL = spreadsheet.getUrl();
  } else {

in that same script, if the RSA has fewer than 15 headlines, could you use the GPT API to suggest new headlines and add those in the same spreadsheet?

To integrate GPT API in the Google Ads script, you'll first need to deploy a simple proxy using Google Cloud Functions or another serverless service to call the OpenAI API. Due to restrictions in Google Ads scripts, you cannot directly call external APIs with authentication headers.

Once you have set up a serverless function, you can use the URL in your Google Ads script to make requests.

Here's the updated script with GPT API integration to suggest new headlines and add them to the spreadsheet:

javascript

 Copy code

// Other parts of the script remain the same

// Add this function to call the GPT API function callGPTApi(prompt) {
```

Allowance for Kids – Types and How Much You Should Pay ...

What are chores a 9 year old could do to earn an allowance?

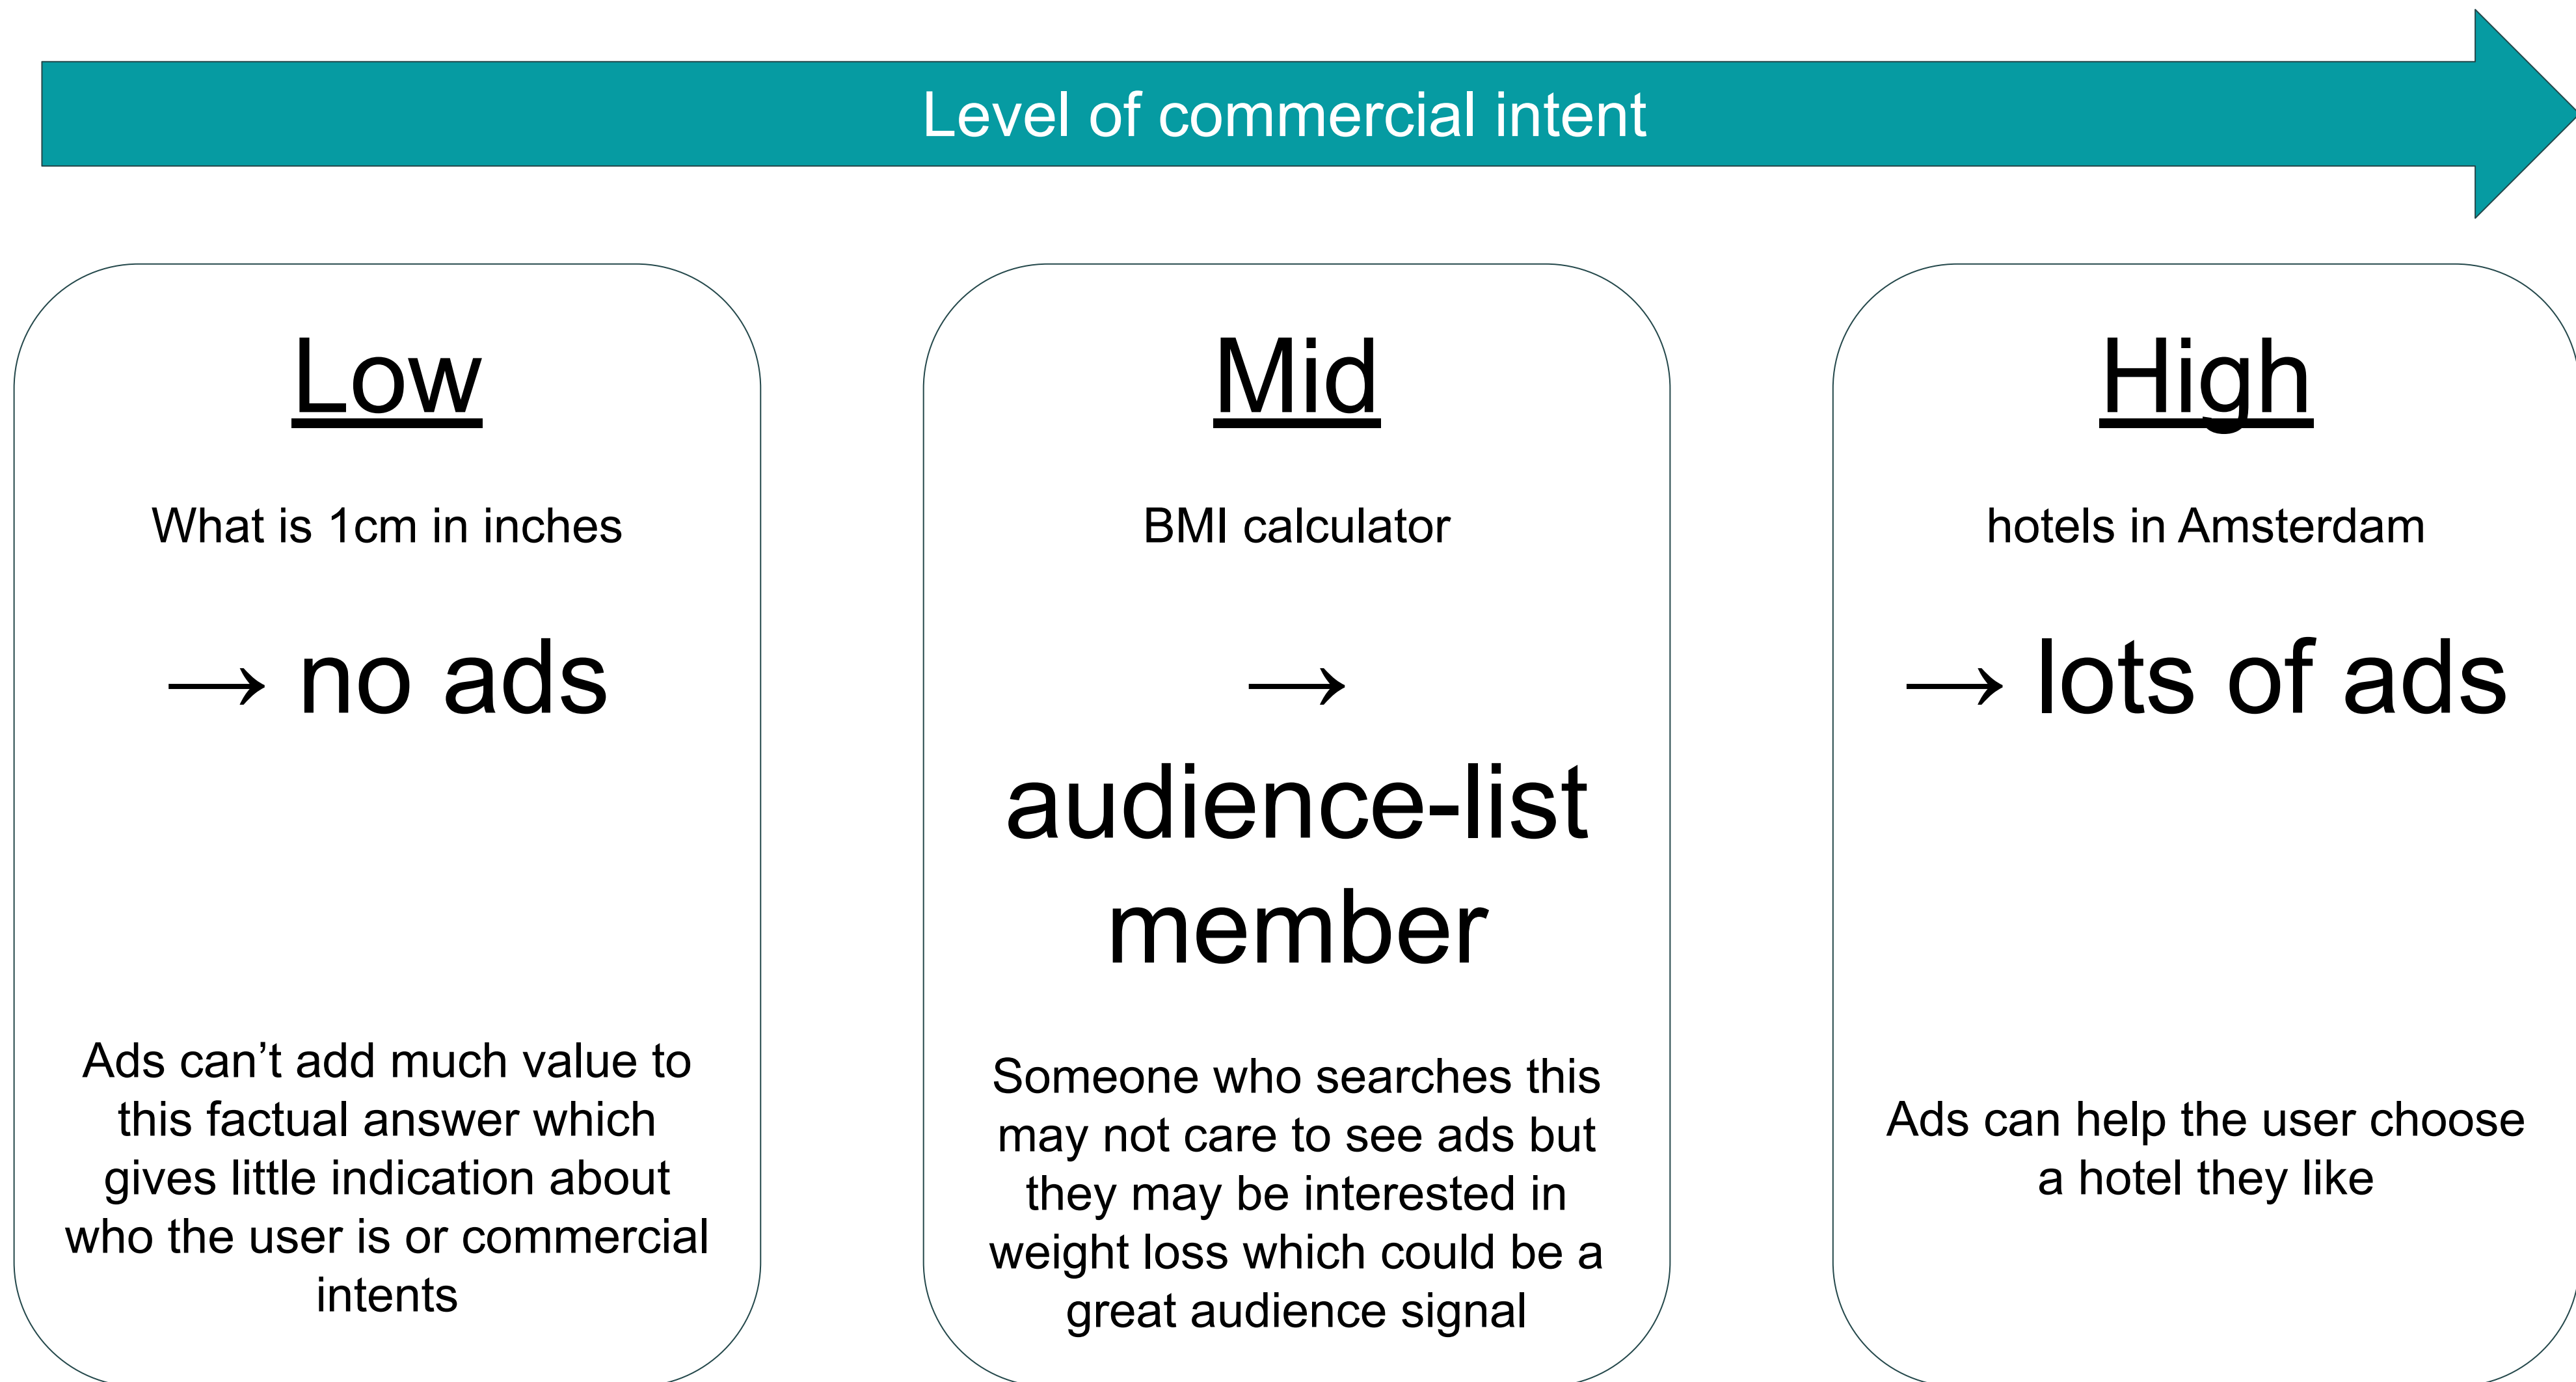

There are many age-appropriate chores that a 9-year-old can do to earn an allowance. Here are some examples:

1. Making their bed every morning
2. Putting away their clean laundry
3. Sweeping or vacuuming the floor
4. Dusting the furniture
5. Setting the table for meals
6. Washing dishes or loading the dishwasher
7. Taking out the garbage or recycling
8. Watering plants or helping with yard work
9. Feeding and caring for pets
10. Helping with grocery shopping by making a list or carrying items

Of course, the specific chores will depend on the individual child's abilities and interests, as well as the family's needs and expectations. It's important to communicate clearly with your child about what is expected of them and how much they will earn for completing each chore. This will help them develop a sense of responsibility and work ethic, as well as an understanding of how money is earned and managed.
